

The news is too biased in their article,

RULE 9: "Doesn't" is a contraction of "does not" and should only be used with a singular subject. "Don't" is a contraction of "do not" and should be used only with plural subjects.
ex: I don't like gun. This doesn't make sense

RULE 10: Nouns such as civics, Mathematics, dollars and news require singular verbs
ex. Morbillion dollars were spent
Civics is a type of course in engineering

B

- | | | |
|-------------|----------|-------------|
| 1. motivate | 6. have | 11. have |
| 2. have | 7. is | 12. do |
| 3. seem | 8. like | 13. remain |
| 4. cost | 9. excel | 14. include |
| 5. is | 10. is | 15. are |

Structure of Academic

A. Sample of Academic Text

Edgar Fabian Lironer Rocha

Ethics Essay

The movie Passengers has a massive moral dilemma followed by numerous moral acts which may align with either the deontological perspective, an utilitarian perspective or could even be potentially wrong, according to both. In this essay we will explore the moral engine, behind several actions performed throughout the film while quickly exploring the broader morality between several action dilemmas which in this essay is not a priority, while utilitarianism could be considered the driving moral perspective that guides both Jim and Anwar, together, there are several moments in the film where a deontological approach is strongly seen, there is acknowledgement of actions being bad by nature while ignoring the consequences but at the end of the film the 'end' with most happiness is what our characters strive for, determining utilitarianism as the predominant presence of perspective.

B.

Reaction Paper

C. It is an critique of the moral dilemmas face by the movie "Passengers" where was it wrong, or terrible the action, Jim has chosen. In which he deliberately woke up Aurora claiming her to same fate he has.

D. Reflections

What classifies as an academic text is difficult at times, but they go in detail with their ideas, and opinion, / findings.